BRITONS ARE IN DOUBT

Nothing Has Been Heard from Pretoria Since Wednesday.

HARD FIGHTING IS POSSIBLE

Well Formed Suspicion that Citizens Committee at Pretoria Failed to Arrange Peaceful Entry.

London June 2 3 45 a m—Lord Roberts continues silent in regard to Pretoria probably because he cannot write of events from his own personal knowledge

Lourenzo Marques where all the news from the Boer side is richard cables that communication with Pretoria is now suspended

Some messages by courier have reached Lourenzo Marques but the latest date than Wednesday Those assert that the burghers are in a state of panic and that Pretoria is being controlled by a vigilance committee

Lourenzo Marques also says the report that President Kruger has embarked on a warship at Delagoa Bay to escape capture is unfounded

Plans May Have Failed

The news that Kruger has left Pretoria may mean that the citizens committee persuaded the commandants of the forts to withdraw some of the troops in accordance with the plans of Lord Roberts and thus have been able to carry out their plans for securing the peaceful occupation of Pretoria but even if the Boers held only three forts standing together on one of the hills south of the town they could hold in addition to stand a siege

The Boers according to a special dispatch from Lourenzo Marques have re entered the northwestern territory of the Cape State and are dealing with the British near Vendersburg and Hartsmith

Krueger Has Engaged Rooms

It is reported from Amsterdam that the best rooms at the Hotel Nassau one of the principal hotels there have been engaged for President Krueger's accompanies from Pretoria

General Buller is moving slowly against the Boer forces

A dispatch from Durban dated May 30 says

"During the occupation of this place by the Boers they flogged the natives for slight offenses A whip and several cords knotted and salted were found at the police station A boy who brought a letter to a woman colonel was laughed and another who sympathized with him received 12 lashes

Lady Georgiana Curzon has cabled urging the encouragement of rifle practice at Mafeking

Conflicting Reports

4 30 p m—The Times has the following from Lourenzo Marques dated June 1

Reports of the most conflicting character are current here due to the activity of the Boer agents While Commandant Delarey has left Pretoria Kruger has returned to Pretoria for the purpose of arranging terms of surrender another asserts that the British have been repulsed outside of Pretoria Nothing natural I know here regarding Mr Kruger's where abouts or the situation in the Transvaal

SCHOOLBOYS' MESSAGE DELIVERED TO KRUGER

Special dispatch June 1 The New York message

From the May 31 By stress of time we give the message from the boys of Philadelphia to President Kruger delivered this day has been a day of sympathy and sorrow at the misfortune which is about to befall the South African Republic To the full independent nations rather than encouragement to a people struggling for liberty for the fight has been fought and lost

The message was delivered in the executive chamber at the capitol through the windows of which came the rumble of carts and the general confusion incident upon the evacuation of the city by families of the Boers The latter are reported to be approaching

There was an impressive silence in the room as the white haired representative of this doomed republic bent forward to receive from the hands of Francis Smith the packet which he had travel 4 12 000 miles to deliver into his hands

Vivat Monitus Te Salutamus

Secretary of State Reitz as the president accepted the message Then he read the message in reverse Caesar greets those about to die

This reference to the United States and the message of sympathy from the sister republic profoundly moved everyone present Tears glistened in the president's eyes as he took the packet from the messenger's hands

In presenting the message Smith made a manly little speech informing President Kruger of the nature of the mission as counter of the schoolboys of Philadelphia Secretary of State Reitz translated Smith's simple sentences as they were spoken

Then the book from the North American containing the narrative of the movement that culminated in the dispatch of the message and the newspaper clipping expressive of the sympathy of the people of the United States with the Boer cause was presented

President Kruger's reply was grave and courteous He tendered hearty thanks to the American people and particularly to the liberty lads of Philadelphia for their sympathy and changed Smith to return his greetings to the good people of America Then with fatherly kindness he shook hands with Smith congratulating him upon completing his long journey in safety and expressing the hope that he would return to his distant home The entire group was then photographed

RESOLUTION CAUSED UPROAR

Virginia Colonel Vehemently Opposed the Action Which Was Supported by General Gordon.

Louisville Ky June 1—The tenth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans adjourned this afternoon at 6 o'clock to night The meeting of 1901 will be held in Memphis

The annual parade of the veterans was thundered on account of the inclement weather

The second session ended in a state of great excitement and confusion

The trouble arose at the conclusion of the presentation of the report of the committee on resolutions

A resolution had been incorporated in the report to the effect that the convention do not desire recognized with application the language of Gen Dan I Sickles the closing part of the annual reunion of the Army of the Potomac at Fredericksburg in which Gen Sickles had mentioned most kindly the men of the Confederate army

Instructions given to them by the men of the Army of the Potomac

Gen Gordon put the question of the adoption of the report There was a rush of ayes and when he called for the vote in the negative he said "The ayes have it" After he had announced the vote there came a few cries of "No"

I did not think that there would be such a question Perhaps some after I had declared that vote I will now resubmit it

The author of the resolution W H Bynum made a strong plea for its adoption He said in part

"I spoke at the meeting at Fredericksburg and had in the kindly sentiments expressed by the people of the North and he stood at the passage of the resolution merely as a matter of courtesy

Col J H Shepherd of Richmond Va secured the floor and said

I served the equestrian with the Yankees who defeated us I to God's sake do not accept anything from their hands Don't even put anything from Union soldiers vote it down, comrades vote it down

The confusion was indescribable Dozens of the veterans were on their feet demanding recognition from the chair

General Gordon finally restored order and said

I think the thing will never be mentioned again

Then coming down to the front rail of the platform the general raised his voice in emphatic earnestness saying

I know the sender of this message Gen Sickles I refer to Gen Sickles gallantly in front of my lines and it was my bullets that sent him to the rear with a leg off For my part I am going to reciprocate the kindly message of the North and I will

Wild cheers greeted this declaration General Gordon yielded the gavel to General Cabell of Texas who made a short address in favor of the resolution He put the question in the midst of great confusion that his voice could scarcely be heard

It was adopted with a roar of assent

Minority Defeated Resolution Looking to Regulation of Trusts.

PARTY BREAKS WERE NEW

Five Democrats Voted in Affirmative and Two Republicans on the Opposing Side.

Washington June 1—The house of representatives today after a lively debate extending over two days defeated the joint resolution proposing constitutional amendment empowering congress to regulate trusts

It requires a two thirds vote under the rule to adopt an amendment to the constitution The vote stood, ayes, 164 nays 131 The affirmative vote was therefore 38 votes short of the requisite two thirds

Five Democrats Messrs Campbell of Montana, Naphen of Massachusetts Scudder of New York Sibley of Pennsylvania and Thayer of Massachusetts and one silverite—Mr Newlands of Nevada voted with the Republicans for the resolution and two Republicans Mr Loud of California, and Mr McCall of Massachusetts, with the Democrats These were the only breaks from party lines The Populists voted solidly against the resolution

The debate preceding the vote had a strong political flavor throughout, and was at times very personal

The features were the closing speeches of Mr Dearmond of Missouri and Mr Littlefield of Maine for the respective sides and the short speech at the close of the roll call against the resolution

Mr McCall has distinguished himself before during this session in opposing the action of the colleagues on the Puerto Rican bill His action today was under the circumstances attracted the more attention

POLITICS AND BUSINESS MINGLED IN THE SENATE

Washington June —The senatorial duel today was caustic and at times bitter

At times the exchanges between senators rejected personalities

Much patriotism although in themselves the questions involved were not essentially political

Soon after the senate convened a memorial of California asking that the government provide some relief for the sufferers from the earthquake was presented with this as a text—scarcely a statement of Britain for expending hundreds of millions of dollars in crushing liberty loving people of England's colonies

Mr Aldrich of Rhode Island charged Mr Hale with making political disquisitions on important matters and a minute later when Mr Hale objected further argument on the special appropriation bill, an exciting discussion arose over the armor plate question

A sharp political thrust was given to the battle by a speech by Mr Thomas of Colorado declaring in favor of letting the armor matter in the hands of the senate conferees—and of course letting the discretionary power upon the shoulders of the president Then with the house provision he became a member of the committee

Messrs Smith of South Carolina and Mr Allen of Nebraska opened the government's ability to manufacture armor satisfactorily in which the speeches led to the intense interest of the debate

Mr Teller of Colorado, Mr Allen and Mr Pettigrew of South Dakota replied to Mr Hanna all speaking in a liberal vein The bill finally was returned to conference

Seventy nine private pension bills were passed and also the military academy appropriation bill the military academy bill carried amendments increasing the number of cadets from 61 to 81 and the number of the army lieutenant generals from one to a major general in command of the line of the army

Colloquies With Hanna

While Mr Hanna was proceeding with his discussion of the manufacture of armor plate carvings, his description of the steps in the completed ship was interrupted by Mr Allen (Neb)

Is there any process in the manufacture of armor plate?

I am not emphatically replied Mr Hanna

Has the senate ever manufactured armor plate? pursued Mr Allen

None but political armor plate suggested Mr Allen sarcastically

Political armor plate retorted Mr Hanna turning squarely to Mr Allen and I have found that pretty invulnerable (Applause and laughter)

Teller Takes a Turn

Mr Teller (Colo) said that long before the senator from Ohio had taken any part in public life he had been advocating and voting for the increase of the navy No he said he was not guilty of it now we don't fall into the ills of the administration of imperialism

Continuing Mr Teller said he had not entered into the discussion of the controversy but that when the chief representative of the Republican party, as he called Mr Hanna came here as the champion of the administration he felt that he was justified in saying that the Republicans expect to repeat their successful assessments upon every manufacturing institution in the country

I deny the statement interrupted Mr Hanna It is not true

I expected the denial responded Mr Teller and for the sake of argument may not be true but substantially it is true notorious that the national banks were all assessed when the banker of Colorado were notified that they were expected to contribute liberally to the election of the Republican ticket

Democratic Funds

Mr Hanna the National bank of Denver was the recipient of all the contributions of the Democratic campaign fund and his president was the solicitor for them

Mr Teller—If that is true the amount raised was in proportion

Mr Hanna—Over $ 00 000

Mr Teller—Oh no I know of every dollar that went through that bank for the campaign

So do I responded Mr Hanna

Then replied Mr Teller the senator knows that the amount was not $ 00 000 nor $100 000 either

Continuing Mr Teller said that he was not prepared in 1900 it was not difficult to account for the interests of the friend of the armor plate makers in the senate He did not suppose that anything to do with Mr Carnegie but he did know that the class of men for whom he stands so much to feel that it was essential that he should be re elected This was a mistake if the merits of the case fair men But he concluded with the assertion that the consideration of the question would not bear investigation for an hour

On motion of Mr Hawley it was agreed to consider the Cuban reciprocity bill immediately after the naval deficiency bill Mr Hale declared that it would be unfair to act on it were not had on the bill prior to final adjournment

An agreement was reached that the deficiency bill should be read tonight uncontested amendments to be passed upon but contested amendments to go over until tomorrow The bill was read all committee amendments adopted and at 7 15 the Senate adjourned

THE BOLD ROBBERY OF AN IOWA SAVINGS BANK

Des Moines Ia June 1—The safe of the bank of Sheldahl was blown up last night by robbers who secured $1 600 and escaped after holding 50 or more citizens at bay with rifles

A posse of citizens from a neighboring city pursued the robbers

When the safe was blown open promptly the inhabitants turned out to learn the cause A glance up the main street showed the building of the savings bank to be in ruins and the timbers burning Deliberately shot to the scene to be met by the gleaming barrels of two rifles in the hands of two strangers who ordered the citizens to halt As the ruins burned brighter two other strangers were descried looting the wrecked safe The crowd of citizens had brought no weapons The two robbers on guard threatened death to the man who moved from his tracks, and the helpless citizens of Sheldahl were compelled to witness the robbery of their savings without lifting a hand in remonstrance

When the two robbers who were left in possession of the safe had secured all the money available they joined their two confederates and with leveled rifles the four marauders lined up the band of citizens who stood with hands held high as ordered until the four robbers had backed away into the darkness and fled The bank building is a total wreck The loss is estimated at $ 000 and added to this the $1 600 secured by the robbers

No trace of the robbers has been discovered

RESOURCES AND PRESENT CONDITIONS IN SIBERIA

Washington June 1—Consul John C Covert at Lyons France has provided the state department some important facts concerning the resources and present conditions in Siberia which was brought out at a conference held at Lyons recently when the possible competition of Siberia with other cereal producing countries was discussed Over 200 000 farmers it was stated arrive in Siberia annually the government providing their free transportation and giving each family the free use of 300 acres of land for a stated time

The population of Siberia is now 8 000 000 but basing the computation upon the population of Russia in Europe is capable of sustaining 80 000 000 people

The annual production of cereals in Siberia at present is about 2 000 000 tons, but the country is capable of producing 10 000 000 tons each year one half of which would be subject to exportation Although Siberia produces one tenth of all the gold in the world on account of the climate and lack of transportation facilities few of the great mines have been thoroughly worked The immense coal deposits too have been scarcely touched A single mine in Siberia is said to contain as much coal as all the deposits of England combined The consul states that the Trans-Siberian railroad in three years will have reached Port Arthur, making the distance between Moscow and Pekin only thirteen or fourteen days.

The children, while not seriously injured, were cut and bruised. A large short account amounting to over [illegible] shares of various stocks was cleared out preliminary to a new campaign. Six Races Booked for Roswell Today

The crowd hit the books heavily in small bets on the Rapid Transit stakes yesterday, but two or three local plungers saved the bookmakers by dropping several hundred dollars on the same race. The crowd that lined up to cash in after this race was not disposed of until the next event was about to start.

Some of the best horses ever seen at Roswell were present, and the entire card was without doubt the best of the season. Many horsemen who play in the circuit, and who have been compelled to roll for big bankers by taking both heats of the mile pace for three-year-olds, were present, while the attendance of horsemen contingent was equally as large. Betting was probably better than on any previous day, because of the growing popularity with the horses, but aside from a few men and women who play in the thousands, small bets prevailed. There were some very fine finishes to the running events, but interest seemed to center in the harness race.

Today's card is the biggest and best of the meet, having six scheduled races, several of which are of especial interest, as the events will include several of the best horses in Roswell and Pecos. Many of the owners of the leading citizens appear to have left last night on this account. In addition to this, there are two impromptu races started some new blood. Most of the entries in the harness races are horses that have been reserved for these events because of their attractive features. Denver has her share of blood entered to-day, and it is safe to say that the sport is to be one of the best ever seen in Roswell.

First race—One mile; three-year-old pacers; best two in three heats; purse $500. Georgia Raymond, Winfield Stratton won in 2:29¼, 2:30¼. Mrs. S. M. also went in first heat. Time: First heat, 2:29¼; second heat, 2:30. Betting: Stratton not on board for last heat; first pool was 4 to 2; R. S. M., 10 to 1; Helen Mar, 10 to 1 to 4 to 1; Belva A., 3 to 1 to 4 to 1. Heavy betting.

BOULDER PLAYS HERE TODAY

This afternoon at Washburn field the college team will oppose the Boulder baseball team for the second time this season. The first game was easy for the wearers of the orange and black, but the playing of Boulder in the past few weeks seems to presage breakers ahead for the local team.

Jones and Gorgin will do the twirling for the college. They will be opposed by Reynolds for Boulder. The pluck southpaw of the visitors has greatly improved in his work since the first game and is said to be at present one of the best twirlers in the intercollegiate league. His support will be the best that the state university can put in the field. Packard will do the catching for the college. Coach Cady has been changed from first to right and Jones has taken his place. The change will greatly strengthen the local team.

The line-up will be as follows:

Reynolds	Pitcher—Jones-Gorgin
Painter	Catcher—Packard
Wardenburg	First base—Davis
Rangeley	Second base—Mead
McMurray	Third base—Cox
Howard	Shortstop—Cooley

"Got Your Nerve!"

That is what one of the leading stationers in Denver told us when he learned we were going to start a book, stationery and art store in Colorado Springs.

"But fools rush in where angels fear to tread" and "fearless minds climb soonest into crowns."

We believe that we have a combination that cannot help but win. It will take a year or more to work out our plans, but our business has been a success from the start and is growing daily.

We believe it is to your advantage to deal with us and we solicit your trade.

Lots More Proof Like This, and It Is All from Colorado Springs People.

"The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it," or any other is the union has sufficient proof on the following subject to fill a column. Genuine merit is finding its reward in the hearty endorsation of local citizens. When people right here at home, friends and neighbors, make a statement like the following for publication, it is proof convincing for the most skeptical. Read this testimony:

Mrs. H. C. Hughes, corner of Cascade and Vermijo streets, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills helped me amazingly and I know they are a reliable remedy for the kidneys. I caught a cold which settled in the small of my back and in the kidneys and caused me so much pain I was quite miserable. Reading an advertisement in our paper about Doan's Kidney Pills I sent my son to Smith-Wilson Drug Co.'s store for a box. The treatment relieved me almost at once and up to date there has been no recurrence of the symptoms."

COLORADO SPRINGS GAZETTE

Published Every Day in the Year

Sixty Cents a Month Seven Dollars a Year

James B. Belford.

In Sunday's GAZETTE will appear a character sketch of Hon. James B Belford by Phonolyte. There has been but one "Red Headed Rooster of the Rockies" and Belford is it.

This sketch is probably better than any of the splendid contributions by the same author on "Senatorial Possibilities."

The senatorial series closed with Fitz-Mac's article on Wolcott last Sunday unless indeed some new candidate should room up on the political horizon.

In that event he will be promptly "done up" in black and white by Phonolyte.

In view of the very remote possibility of a dead lock Phonolyte has written a composite article on "The Dark Horse" which will appear in the GAZETTE on Sunday the 10th of June.

It is immensely amusing and entertaining and will be accompanied by an appropriate half-tone composite photograph.

These articles will be followed during the summer by articles on prominent men and women of the state in other lines of service than that of politics.

THE MOB.

EVER since the lynching at Pueblo a few days ago, there [illegible] cress which create a mob.

Strange as it may appear, it is nevertheless true that mobs can almost always find some palliation for their acts in the abstract justice of the ends they seek to accomplish [illegible] of outraged justice; some discrimination of the law in favor of the strong and against the weak; some defect of procedure by which the equilibrium of organized society is convulsed or disturbed. Frenzy takes the place of reason and the overpowering desire to supply the missing links of natural justice compels a resort to natural force.

They are always a protest and it generally happens that along with that shall come good ground for protest exists.

They are never justifiable. Neither are law laws nor [illegible]

Legal methods are invariably the best even though the [illegible]

Victor Hugo graphically describes one of these epidemics and its disinterment:

"Of what is the 'emeute composed'? Of nothing and of everything. Of an electricity gradually evolved, of actions [illegible] ing, which. This mind meets talking tongues, dreaming brains, suffering souls, burning passions, hurling missiles, and sweeps them away. Whither?

"At hazard. Across the state; across the laws, across the prosperity and the indolence of others.

"Irritated convictions, outraged consciences, excited indignations, the repressed instincts of war, exalted young courage, noble impulses, curiosity, the taste for change, the thirst for the unexpected.

"And armies are but organized, drilled and trained mobs."

And war is a protest always in its inception.

War seldom occurs until some nation or people has reached the limit of unjust treatment by some other nation or people.

"The upheavals of war are no more to be allowed as a radical defect in some body politic than is the existence of a mob that some local wrong needs fighting or some new method of government needs invigorating.

For years murder in Colorado has been the least punished of any of the crimes.

What with maudlin sympathy, flourishing the red hand [illegible] the reluctance of twelve men to inflict a penalty which might mean death, the wise technicalities of the law transformed into invincible barriers of defense for the criminal by weak or designing courts, the disposition to make heroes of murderers, the sensational press which would gladly give every law breaker outside Leadville a column and a good story or to vindicate a pet theory, [illegible] always in the interest of the criminal it is small wonder so many murderers go free. [illegible] three natural consequences [illegible] upon the book.

After the gauntlet of all these protecting criminal influences has been run, then some shrewd [illegible] sets to work to demonstrate what scoundrels the jurors and jury acting under solemn oaths, were. And how Mr. Sprocket, who never heard a single syllable of the testimony in the case and would not know a true book if it met one, is thoroughly convinced the wrong man has been convicted and that some one else committed the crime.

Then with a bower of bouquets from sentimental women to the chivalrous murder hero, the universal and indefinite petition for a pardon, the [illegible] and [illegible] board of review which keeps the scales of justice well shot and liable matched [illegible] great wonder is that as other result is ever accomplished in [illegible] murder cases than a copper-lined [illegible] medal of honor and an admonition to go do some more.

The lynching at Pueblo was a most reasonable affair because of its lawlessness and because there should not be the [illegible] either the nullification or evasion of our laws for such lawlessness.

If the people have thoroughly learned the lesson which this action of the Pueblo mob should give it, no more [illegible] result in such [illegible] and such stringent enforcement of the laws as will prevent any such future disgrace to the state.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

GOVERNOR THOMAS had his turn in Denver Thursday [illegible] a republican [illegible] convention. True there were many [illegible] and [illegible] but then the leaders of [illegible] ing as well as the party [illegible] that has produced longer [illegible] and [illegible] had.

From [illegible] of charges which preceded it is quite apparent the speeches [illegible] were [illegible] The [illegible] many [illegible] the [illegible] office holders [illegible] crimes committed [illegible] while [illegible] the [illegible] while the fire department was [illegible] applauding the masterly speech of their official head, President Speer.

Probably Denver would be better off if they held a Democratic convention every day and we wonder if it is worth remarking that these delegate-policemen do breed crime while on their beats and whether fires are really caused by the ubiquitous presence of these Democratic fire fighters?

In any event there were other people and many prominent ones in the convention besides these patriotic office-holders.

Col. Thomas Jefferson Maloney has reason to be disturbed over such a large [illegible] of [illegible]

There was defiance in the air too. Just think of Bob Speer, who never made a speech before in his life, delivering a withering philippic against Col. Maloney and his committee. Art he charged conspiracy, too! Deep-dyed, dark and [illegible] conspiracy to wreck the Democratic party! Now the colonel ought to be ashamed of himself. We thought he wanted to go to the senate himself and we launched a full-sized, best-make, copper-nailed boom for him.

And here he is trying to help Wolcott! So Speer says and Speer ought to know. Speer has the best detective force in the world and if they could not discover that Maloney was in a "conspiracy" their reputations would be gone and so would their jobs.

The Democratic State convention next Thursday promises to be the most interesting and lurid in years.

It has been arranged to hold it in the Broadway theater and the special condition in the rental contract is that there shall be no furniture in the house that is not nailed down and every man is to be carried at the door.

[illegible] convention the reporters are to be placed in the gallery, where flying missiles cannot reach them.

Chairman Smith says, with "conspiracies" and other things running loose in the convention, he is not going to take any chances.

Cloth of mail will probably not be needed, but a few rubber bags filled with sawdust worn fore and aft might be all right.

Col. Thomas Jefferson O'Donnell should by all means be made chairman of the convention.

He will incite a riot sure, if he is left on the floor, and if he is put in the chair the delegates will forget all about being mad at each other after a few of his partisan [illegible]

As the champion quieter of political riots the colonel has no rival in the state and he will bring harmony into this unhappy family as only one can. He has a theory which works admirably and easily. He draws all of the fire unto himself and, as he can handle four men at once in a joint debate from the chairman's stand, they either [illegible] quite exhausted and thoroughly tractable or else [illegible] and O'Donnell that all other grievances sink into insignificance.

The Kansas City Times is to nominate Bryan with the [illegible] with this meeting to denounce Thomas for senator and to denounce Maloney for "conspiracy."

POPULAR ELECTION OF SENATORS.

[illegible] several [illegible] of the senate of the house resolution for the election of senators by the people will but hasten the day when this much needed reform will be brought about.

This is the third time the house has passed such a resolution and always by a large majority of its members, [illegible] political difference but the senate has refused even to consider the matter.

In this instance the resolution is returned by the elections committee stamped "adverse," a Republican recommendation that it be left undisturbed. And it will probably go [illegible] as far as the senate can influence such action.

But not so with the people. They are thoroughly in earnest about the matter and fortunately they have the means of enacting the necessary legislation entirely in their own hands [illegible] to the action of [illegible] Republican [illegible]

The Chicago Times-Herald in an able editorial upon [illegible] question [illegible] on this phase of the question:

[illegible] several [illegible] amendments. Evidently it was [illegible] that no changes were suggested which would affect congress itself or congressional business and the relation to [illegible] The opposition would be to conserve those things that were fundamental in the constitution of that body and to keep behind the [illegible]

In the article authorizing two methods of initiative where amendments are proposed, Congress may [illegible] it will, and "two-thirds majority of both houses may call the necessary convention" whose work must be ratified by three-fourths of the states. But when congress [illegible] after the manner of this present senate, the legislatures of two-thirds of the states may force it to call the convention whether it wants to or not. So when the popular demand is strong enough not even a sixty-year-term of office and a [illegible] monopoly will suffice to resist the pressure.

In the present instance it is certain that though a majority of the senate just over a third might veto the demand there would be little trouble in securing the legislatures of two-thirds of the states, because the people are thoroughly determined to take the election of senators into their own hands. The movement which has already begun will go forward until the senate is finally [illegible] submission.

Meanwhile it is to be hoped that every political convention which meets this year will hasten the good work by the adoption of appropriate resolutions. The question is one about which all parties should agree.

TOURISTS AND NATIVES.

SOME time ago the Gazette gave space to a number of communications criticising an alleged lack of courtesy on the part of some of the merchants of the city, and pointing out that it was a serious mistake from a business standpoint.

It is in the same spirit that prompted the publication [illegible] to [illegible] written.

During the season which has been fairly begun Colorado Springs and suburbs of the Garden will be thronged by visitors many of whom return to renew the pleasure of former experience, many others being guests of the state and its citizens for the first time.

A large proportion of these guests it will sound glad to [illegible] not merely because of present and possibly future material advantage which may be derived from them, but because they represent the culture, the refinement, and the intelligence of other communities. This fact has a marked influence upon the character and development of the sentiment and ideals of the state. Colorado Springs, as entertaining what is [illegible] to greater or less extent [illegible] permanent citizenship is made up of a proportional representation from abroad, but also from the fact of its intercourse and intimate relations with tourists from all parts of the globe.

There is [illegible] an appropriate natural [illegible] the [illegible] of all [illegible] not even yet been entirely swept away by [illegible] and [illegible] between the [illegible] and the native. To the mind of the former the latter is [illegible] a barbarian, a creature whose [illegible] and [illegible] is [illegible] to all and [illegible] contrary to the [illegible] The [illegible] and not unreasonably [illegible] providing the [illegible] to be dealt with [illegible] and desired [illegible] and is not [illegible] to take him [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and

Alleged "Con" Men Picked Up at Roswell

At the race track yesterday afternoon one of the oldest tricks known to the light fingered fraternity was worked by three men who are now languishing in the city and county jail Alec Steininger was the victim The escape of $30 is the burden of his sorrow

The game played by the touts at the race track at Roswell yesterday was a simple one and perhaps to this fact is due the fleecing of Steininger In all such cases the man who is to be played is mixed up in the crowd right with the victim as one of the touts the pockets are deftly relieved of their contents and the victim is left to bemoan his fate

In the melee yesterday afternoon all that seems was an easy victim The trouble was soon started by a jostle and his pocketbook fell out on the ground before one of the men

When the man started off with the bill one of the private detectives in the local police force saw him and immediately stopped him The stiff took him in hand and searched him

The whole crowd were then ordered from the grounds The gang proceeded to think that their troubles were over and came to the city The police force caught up with them under arrest at the track but as soon as the city limits were reached Private Officer Sam Shellenberger took them in charge

At police headquarters the men gave the names of W T Anderson C B Roberts and G Stuffel Out the latter giggled as he gave it in Another search produced better results than the first of the trio less than $6 They were not permitted to occupy the same cells One was placed in the bridal chamber of the city jail One was placed in the cage and the third was taken to the county jail They will thus be kept apart in order that they may not be able to fix up a story in which all will agree The catch is looked upon by the local force as a good one as it is believed that they are all notorious characters whose names and pictures do grace several rogues galleries

STRIKE ON MINERAL HILL

Big Vein on the Roanoke Claim the Talk of the Camp--Some Recent High-Grade Shipments.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, June 1.—A strike has been made on Mineral Hill which in any other camp but Cripple Creek would rent unusual excitement. Here strikes are of such common occurrence that they furnish comment for but a few hours. Mineral hill was the first love of the old time prospectors. Many a man of that stamp has cried with joy at the return and capture of the old hill in the camp's days of adversity, showing that miners have not changed. Nuggets with as much gold in sight have been panned from the soil at the foot of the hill on the south.

Although these days of the past did not witness but a small fraction of the production which has made the old hill famous, Mineral hill knew its full share of the excitement. A young Scotchman named Hendrie struck it rich one day about a year ago. He noted well the course of the vein and while he and his friends were celebrating their find with bumpers of champagne, started on the trail of the Mineral Hill Extension. Mineral hill knew its full share of excitement. A young Scotchman named Hendrie struck it rich one day about a year ago. He noted well the course of the vein and while he and his friends were celebrating their find with bumpers of champagne, started on the trail of the Mineral Hill Extension.

The talk of the camp for the night is across the divide, and the excitement is intense. Hendrie's friends are to be congratulated, for the ledge is a true fissure vein, and the ore is of high grade. Assays of the ore from the Roanoke claim have run as high as $1,000 to the ton. Assays from the remainder of the vein average from $60 to $80 to the ton. The claim is situated directly at the head of Hayden street, and within a few minutes' walk of the Cripple Creek depot. The Roanoke claim is the first claim to the north of the Hendrie claim, which is owned by Wood & Co.

bonded lease. The vein has a northwest and southeasterly trend, which should carry the ore through this claim from the Coriolanus.

Superintendent Smith of the Coriolanus is now engaged in shipment of high-grade ore, and will start a force of men to work on the Roanoke claim at once.

High Grade Shipments.

A carload shipment of ore from the Vindicator mine at Victor is reported to have netted the owners $1,000. Two tons of ore from the Mary Gardner mine at Victor netted $1,000. Two tons of ore from the Hattie Mine netted $1,000. A carload shipment of ore from the Independence mine at Victor is reported to have netted $1,000. 30-DAY TRADING ON MONDAY

The Governing Committee of the Old Exchange Sanctions the System of Time Trading and Adopts Rules to Govern it.

The governing committee of the Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association has adopted the system of time trading in Mining stocks, beginning Monday morning, June 4th. The committee has framed a set of rules governing the trading, a synopsis of which will be published in The Gazette tomorrow morning. These rules are the result of much thought and care, and it is believed will meet with the approval of the mining fraternity.

The rules provide that all trades made with the understanding that they are to be settled in thirty days, shall be reported to the Exchange within one hour after the deal is made, if made during business hours, and if made after business hours, during the following business hour.

Should a trade not be reported within the time specified, the seller may deposit with the clearing house the stock sold in the trade, and demand payment.

In all cases where additional cash margins are called during business hours, they must be made within two hours, and if made after business hours, during the following business hour.

A TIME FOR BUYING

Nearly all of the really meritorious stocks are selling below their intrinsic worth and almost the entire market is a "buy." We do not anticipate any serious decline during the summer, and believe that the investor who will purchase now and hold on to his stock will come out with splendid profits. There are a number of stocks that offer specially good investments, and upon request we will gladly give our well considered opinion as to what stocks offer the most attractive investments at the present time.

DIVIDEND PAYERS

There are several dividend-payers which we believe offer not only steady interest on the money invested, but also that offer the opportunity for splendid profits. Write us and we will give you the details concerning the dividend-payers that are most attractive.

PROSPECTIVE DIVIDEND PAYERS

There are several stocks which will, we believe, enter the dividend paying ranks before a great while. These stocks are selling comparatively low, and we advise the immediate purchase of them both for an investment and for quick profits. We will give particulars upon request.

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, June 1. The month opened on the Colorado Springs Mining Stock Exchange with the market in practically the same condition that it was in during the greater part of the month of May. Many of the stocks are strong and the trading, although not heavy, is better than the activity in Cripple Creek would warrant, but that has been said of the market for even longer than a month. Today the trading was not quite so good as it was yesterday, but the strength among the majority of the good stocks is still indicative of a fairly good month.

Amongst those which has advanced steadily ever since it touched the low water mark last week, sold again at 25¢, although 500 shares sold four points below, as Elkton sensible statesmanship at $1.30¼. Independence, Lee Nation and Ida May have all reacted from the advance made on good reports, and Isabella, which manifested so much strength on the morning call, sold again to $1.28. One of the notable features of the afternoon call was the downfall strength in Matoa stock which sold up to 35 with little trading. Matoa has been more or less popular with some people since work was started at the 1,000-foot level. Another very decided feature was the weakness in Independence "F and M," which went as low as 67½, having declined about 4 cents under very heavy trading. It is reported that its trouble with the Wilson Creek suit is very seriously, and several boats have been talking today. It is thought that the dividends are being paid merely to keep up the price of the stock.

The total sales for the day amounted to 496,355 shares exchanged, the cash value of the day's trading coming to $112,759.05.

A Valuable Folder and Map.

A most important addition has been made to the New York Central folder, which is issued by the passenger department of the New York Central Lines. This folder bears the title "Around the World by Way of New York and Niagara Falls in Sixty to Eighty Days," and contains a large amount of information of a commonplace character, and an excellent railway map of the United States, showing the railway systems in good proportion. This folder is a sequel to the address given by Mr. Daniels before the International Congress of Commerce and Industry, and serves to illustrate the immense debt which the country owes to the railroads for the effective manner in which they have advertised the products of American soil, mines and mills to the people of every country on the globe. The map which accompanies this folder is unusually clear and distinct, and the coloring and shading are artistically treated. A copy of this folder will be sent prepaid, on receipt of three cents in stamps, by George H. Daniels, General Passenger Agent, New York Central Grand Central Station, New York. From the Traveler's Official Railway Guide.
